Harold:

Here is Chapter III of Van Der Karr's thesis. There is nothing of importance in the rest of the book, except for the ~~xxxxxxxx~~ page (p.40) dealing with the photo of the Man in the Doorway.

I wrote to the address that Van Der Karr used in 1965, but so far have received no reply.

If Van Der Karr answers my letter, I think that I will put him in touch with Sprague and let Sprague question him. Sprague wrote me for ~~XXX~~ VDK's address and I told him to sit tight, since I was already trying to get VDK. It is certain that Sprague will be a good deal more competent than I in getting data out of VDC, so I am quite willing to let Sprague do it.

Attached to the pages of Chapter III is a list on newsmen who served in Dallas at the time.

Still,

Dick
